CHARACTERS

TARA WHEATON | Andrea Menard

Métis cop Tara Wheaton is a non-believer determined to uncover the truth behind the violent crimes and unexplained events that plague the remote northern town of Rabbit Fall. Her quest brings her face-to-face with her own chilling connection to the supernatural forces at work.

SIMON BLACKHORSE | Patrick Bird

Medicine man Simon Blackhorse has the community believing he is a man of high cultural significance. People trust him and he uses this to his advantage as he sets out to destroy Tara and quell the secret of her deeper purpose in Rabbit Fall.

BOB VENTON | Kevin Jubinville

Constable Bob Venton is a sociopath on a mission to reign over Rabbit Fall. His motives may differ from Blackhorse, but these two dangerous men share the same goal – to eliminate Tara. Can Bob make Blackhorse an ally while keeping his back covered and his hands clean?

ZOE | Tinsel Korey

Novice mortician Zoe returns to Rabbit Fall to run to her uncle's funeral parlour. Like Tara, she belongs here but she doesn't fit. The two are fast friends as Zoe becomes Tara's confidante and her only link to the world between science and supernatural.

OLLIE | Peter Kelly Gaudreault

The reclusive Ollie steps out from his bus in the woods and deeper into the mysteries of Rabbit Fall. His studies of the town's scientific phenomena and his intense interest in Tara grow suspicious as it becomes clear no one really knows where Ollie came from or what he is doing here.

STANTON MARTINSKY | Booth Savage

The soft-spoken Sergeant has never been interested in finding out what is afoot in the eerie little town of Rabbit Fall. A frightening glimpse into the darkness weighs on his sanity.
